The Cherokee people voted to have the tribal council represent the Cherokees in their district. Not just their personal view or opinion or what the Chief tells them to do.

Dancing to Chad's Tunes

Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma Council member Buel Anglen is one of Chad Smith's "Slate of Eight." The Slate of eight forms a simple majority and allows Smith to dictate the government of the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma. Anglen is a proven liar and a fraud.

When Anglen was first appointed to the CNO Council I and many other Cherokee Citizens were outraged to find that a non-Cherokee by blood, non-resident of Tulsa District #8 and employee of CNO under the supervision of Smith's administration was approved. The vote in Council was a tie 7 to 7 and the Deputy Chief, a member of the executive branch, cast the deciding vote in an irregular meeting filling a vacancy in the legislature.

Of course the Cherokee People protested and I filed a lawsuit in the CNO Judicial Appeals Tribunal that took a couple of years of inaction to finally fissile out and die on the vine after Mr. Anglen was re-elected in 1999. It should not be a surprise to any Cherokee that has kept up with the political process in the Nation to see Mr. Anglen finally exposed.

It just goes to show you how far the corruption spreads when the CNO Department of Law and Justice sends Richard Osburn with a letter proving my case against Anglen just to get him off the hook in a Federal investigation.

It should be pointed out that others in this "Slate of Eight" should be very concerned how this is going to effect their future run to hold their seat on the Council. Right here in Muskogee District # 4 Councilman Don Garvin should be very concerned about his record of stepping in time with Buel Anglen to the tune of Chad Smith's fiddling about.
